

$7.00
ROUND-TRIP EXCURSION
via FRISCO
To EUREKA SPRINGS, Ark.
(In the Cool-Climate)
FRIDAY, AUGUST 14th.
Tickets will be good going only on regular trains leaving St. Louis above date, and will be good to return any time within ten days.
Tickets Southeast Corner Eighth and Olive Streets and Union Station.

Hot-weather comforts as well as the necessities appeal to all. Full supplies for every want, whether at home or abroad are displayed at that comprehensive retail dry goods house, Barr's. Special values and exceedingly low prices prevail.

DEMAND THE DEATH PENALTY FOR BRIBERS AND BOODLERS.

Democrats of Ironton, O., Adopt Vigorous Resolutions at Their County Convention.

REPUBLICAN SPECIAL.
Cincinnati, O., Aug. 9.—At the recent Democratic County Convention at Ironton, O., resolutions were adopted demanding the death penalty for bribers and boodlers. In the preamble it is set forth that one-third of the voting population of Lawrence County is corrupt.

The open charge is the outgrowth of the investigation of the Ironton Post Office. The resolutions follow:

"The vile methods of the Republican politicians of this county have become a disgrace to our civilization. A conservative estimate of the number of boodlers in our county would place the same at no less than one-third of the voting population."

"The vile practice of hoodlums so called, at first by stealth, has become an open shame to our citizenship and has soiled the name of the voters to that a decent man shudders at the prospect of being a candidate for office."

"Recognizing as we do that ours is a self-government, and that the intelligence and integrity of the people, and as patriotic citizens, we demand of the Legislature that it enact a law that will punish by death the person who gives or receives a bribe, and that will prevent our voting places from being election days hotbeds of treason and corruption."

"We further declare our opposition to the practice of hauling voters to the polls, and request that no Democrat engage in such practice at any future election."

"We recognize the fact that a large proportion of Republican votes in this county are secured by the use of force, and we demand that the people may be elevated to a higher plane, and that the people may receive from their servants in office a pure administration of local affairs."

"We direct and instruct the delegates to the State Convention to adhere to this platform as to State and national matters, and to vote for no man for any position who is not a Democrat, and who is not in favor of the foregoing resolutions."

"Whereas, charges have been made by the public press of the State, and it is commonly reported in the city of Ironton, that there is a system of bribery and hoodlums in the city of Ironton, and that the same is connected with the Post Office there."

"Resolved, That the Democrats assembled in this County Convention demand that a thorough and searching investigation be made, and that the Postmaster General of the United States be asked to send another Post Office Inspector or an impartial detective from his own department to investigate and make known to this community at the proper time whether the said charges are true or false."

CITY MARSHAL ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF MURDER.

Coroner Holds Vince Coleman for the Killing of Rufus Cox in a Fight at Dalton, Mo.

REPUBLICAN SPECIAL.
Brunswick, Mo., Aug. 9.—City Marshal Vince Coleman of Dalton shot and killed Rufus Cox late last night at Dalton. Cox was shot three times in the chest, one bullet passing through the left lung and another entering the heart.

Cox was selling fish in the street when Coleman came along and ordered him to take his box of fish off the sidewalk. A few words were exchanged and a fight ensued. Coleman pulled his pistol and shot at Cox four times.

Coleman was arrested and lodged in jail at Keokuk, Mo. He is a brother of Charley Coleman, who was killed last April in a fight with Will White.

Doctor B. H. Curran, Coroner, held an inquest and the jury rendered a verdict that the killing was unjustifiable.

MRS. LEVI L. JOHNSON.
Grayville, Ill., Aug. 9.—Mrs. Levi L. Johnson died yesterday of the effects of a paralytic stroke, aged 67 years.

SPECIALTIES.
FUNERAL FLOWERS.
And designs of all kinds—flowers, caskets, etc.; also artificial caskets. Local cut flowers. Edith Floral Co., 124 Olive st.

DEATHS.
ALEXANDER—At Cincinnati, O., Sunday, August 9, 1903, John Alexander, husband of Julia Alexander, aged 57 years.

HOCKEY—Entered into rest on Saturday, August 8, 1903, at 10:15 a. m. Simon Hockey, a sick man, aged 70 years.

HOPMAN—Entered into rest on Saturday, August 8, 1903, at 10:15 a. m. Hopman, a sick man, aged 70 years.

KIRKSWITH—Entered into rest on Saturday, August 8, 1903, at 10:15 a. m. Kirkswith, a sick man, aged 70 years.

KIRKSWITH—Entered into rest on Saturday, August 8, 1903, at 10:15 a. m. Kirkswith, a sick man, aged 70 years.

KIRKSWITH—Entered into rest on Saturday, August 8, 1903, at 10:15 a. m. Kirkswith, a sick man, aged 70 years.

KIRKSWITH—Entered into rest on Saturday, August 8, 1903, at 10:15 a. m. Kirkswith, a sick man, aged 70 years.

KIRKSWITH—Entered into rest on Saturday, August 8, 1903, at 10:15 a. m. Kirkswith, a sick man, aged 70 years.

KIRKSWITH—Entered into rest on Saturday, August 8, 1903, at 10:15 a. m. Kirkswith, a sick man, aged 70 years.

CHURCH IS UPSET BY DEFALCATION.

Disappearance of W. S. Allen With $50,000 of Ministers' Aid Fund Causes a Sensation.

DUAL LIFE BROUGHT TO LIGHT.

Zealous Church Worker Gambles in Stocks With Society's Funds and Flees When Panic Exposures Him.

REPUBLICAN SPECIAL.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 9.—Determined that Ward Allen, who robbed the Preachers' Aid Society of about $50,000, shall be arrested and brought back to pay the penalty of his crime, Chief of Police Watts has asked the police of this country, Canada and England for his arrest. It is now believed that Allen sailed on a steamer leaving Montreal last week.

Never has Boston had such a case of double life that exposed by the stock market when Willard Allen, a man of 30 years, a church member, clerk of a district court and treasurer without bonds of one of the largest funds of the Methodist Church, unable to increase his margins, saw himself a ruined man and fled from the city.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

SOUTH'S PROGRESS COUNTS STRONG.

Recent Declines in Wall Street Have Caused No Disturbance of Prosperous Conditions.

PUSH RAILWAY IMPROVEMENTS.

Heavy Immigration Movement, Absence of Labor Troubles and Great Business Activity Noted in All Sections.

REPUBLICAN SPECIAL.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 9.—Determined that Ward Allen, who robbed the Preachers' Aid Society of about $50,000, shall be arrested and brought back to pay the penalty of his crime, Chief of Police Watts has asked the police of this country, Canada and England for his arrest. It is now believed that Allen sailed on a steamer leaving Montreal last week.

Never has Boston had such a case of double life that exposed by the stock market when Willard Allen, a man of 30 years, a church member, clerk of a district court and treasurer without bonds of one of the largest funds of the Methodist Church, unable to increase his margins, saw himself a ruined man and fled from the city.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Allen was supposed to be the personification of honesty. His duties as treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Fund were regarded as a labor of love. He was devoted to his wife and family, consisting of one son and two daughters. Allen was a model, unassuming man, but was prominent in Boston affairs as a representative citizen of the East Side. He always lived in a simple way.

Save the Health

A nourishing diet is of vital importance. We can improve the health by encouraging the use of pure, nutritious foods.

Nature's food for man. Bad cases of indigestion can be prevented by its steady use. Persons who eat of it freely are not nervous. The appetite for it grows. Every day it is better appreciated.

PRICE'S

WHEAT FLAKE CEREAL

Palatable—Nutritious—Easy of Digestion and Ready to Eat

My signature on every package.

Dr. Price, the creator of Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder and Delicious Flavoring Extracts.

Prepared by PRICE CEREAL FOOD CO., Food Mills, BATTLE CREEK, MICH., Main Offices, CHICAGO.

TRADE WITH RUSSIA GROWING RAPIDLY.

Total of Exports and Imports Last Year the Largest in History of Our Commerce.

NEW HIGH MARK IN EACH.

Shipments to Czar's Territory Aggregated $17,496,812, Largest Since 1883, Almost Double Total of 1901.

The Republic Bureau, 14th St. and Pennsylvania Ave., Washington, Aug. 9.—Commerce between the United States and Russia made its highest record in the fiscal year just ended.

In both exports and imports from Russia the figures for the year just ended are larger than at any time within the last twenty years, and the grand total of imports and exports combined is larger than any years in the history of our commerce with that country.

A statement regarding the commerce of the United States with Russia, presented by the Department of Commerce and Labor through its Bureau of Statistics, shows that the total exports to Russia in the year ending June 30, 1903, aggregated $17,496,812.

This total is nearly double that of the year ending June 30, 1902, and shows a marked growth for last year, and the total for the year is greater than in any preceding year in the history of our trade with Russia.

The record of the year 1903 shows a larger total of exports to Russia than in any preceding year except 1883, and a larger total of imports from Russia than in any preceding year except 1902. The total of exports and imports combined with Russia was larger in the fiscal year 1903 than in any preceding year.

OUR CHIEF EXPORTS.
Cotton, agricultural implements and manufactures of iron and steel are the principal exports to Russia. In 1903 the total value of exports to Russia was $17,496,812, of which cotton accounted for $10,000,000, and manufactures of iron and steel for $7,496,812.

The statement of the Bureau of Statistics shows that the total value of exports to Russia in 1903 was $17,496,812, of which cotton accounted for $10,000,000, and manufactures of iron and steel for $7,496,812.

The large proportion of value of the exports to Russia is accounted for by the cotton and manufactures of iron and steel. The cotton exports to Russia in 1903 were $10,000,000, and the manufactures of iron and steel were $7,496,812.

The large proportion of value of the exports to Russia is accounted for by the cotton and manufactures of iron and steel. The cotton exports to Russia in 1903 were $10,000,000, and the manufactures of iron and steel were $7,496,812.

The large proportion of value of the exports to Russia is accounted for by the cotton and manufactures of iron and steel. The cotton exports to Russia in 1903 were $10,000,000, and the manufactures of iron and steel were $7,496,812.

The large proportion of value of the exports to Russia is accounted for by the cotton and manufactures of iron and steel. The cotton exports to Russia in 1903 were $10,000,000, and the manufactures of iron and steel were $7,496,812.

The large proportion of value of the exports to Russia is accounted for by the cotton and manufactures of iron and steel. The cotton exports to Russia in 1903 were $10,000,000, and the manufactures of iron and steel were $7,496,812.

The large proportion of value of the exports to Russia is accounted for by the cotton and manufactures of iron and steel. The cotton exports to Russia in 1903 were $10,000,000, and the manufactures of iron and steel were $7,496,812.

The large proportion of value of the exports to Russia is accounted for by the cotton and manufactures of iron and steel. The cotton exports to Russia in 1903 were $10,000,000, and the manufactures of iron and steel were $7,496,812.

The large proportion of value of the exports to Russia is accounted for by the cotton and manufactures of iron and steel. The cotton exports to Russia in 1903 were $10,000,000, and the manufactures of iron and steel were $7,496,812.

The large proportion of value of the exports to Russia is accounted for by the cotton and manufactures of iron and steel. The cotton exports to Russia in 1903 were $10,000,000, and the manufactures of iron and steel were $7,496,812.

The large proportion of value of the exports to Russia is accounted for by the cotton and manufactures of iron and steel. The cotton exports to Russia in 1903 were $10,000,000, and the manufactures of iron and steel were $7,496,812.

The large proportion of value of the exports to Russia is accounted for by the cotton and manufactures of iron and steel. The cotton exports to Russia in 1903 were $10,000,000, and the manufactures of iron and steel were $7,496,812.

The large proportion of value of the exports to Russia is accounted for by the cotton and manufactures of iron and steel. The cotton exports to Russia in 1903 were $10,000,000, and the manufactures of iron and steel were $7,496,812.

The large proportion of value of the exports to Russia is accounted for by the cotton and manufactures of iron and steel. The cotton exports to Russia in 1903 were $10,000,000, and the manufactures of iron and steel were $7,496,812.

The large proportion of value of the exports to Russia is accounted for by the cotton and manufactures of iron and steel. The cotton exports to Russia in 1903 were $10,000,000, and the manufactures of iron and steel were $7,496,812.